

ATRIUM

- the new allround chair

Through several years of development, the designers have created a well-crafted chair with character. The chair challenges the classic all-purpose chairs and allows customers to choose the new standard. Whether it is wooden legs or wheels, colorful or toned down.

- Atrium is created for big occasions and the small moments. It is a chair with almost endless combinations, says Pål Eid-Hviding, Head of marketing at Fora Form.

- It is a simple, yet elegant chair where we have pressed the materials to the extreme, both steel and plywood, to bring out the clean lines and excellent comfort, says Torbjørn Anderssen from Anderssen & Voll, who are the designers behind both Atrium and Senso Frame.

- We are very excited about the reception of the chair.

- Atrium has so many possibilities and can be used in so many ways, everything from canteen chair to light work chair, so it will be exciting to see how the market receives it, Anderssen concludes.
